McWilliams-Voseipka. A beautiful afternoon June wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McWilliams Wednesday in the presence of seventy-five relatives and friends.

The contracting parties were Miss Mae McWilliams and Mr. George Voseipka, two of the most popular and well known young people of the city.

At five thirty while the guests awaited the arrival of the bridal party in the parior Miss Evelyn Daily sang. "O Promise Me." The interior of the well appointed home was beautifully decorated with green and gold hearts. decorated with green and gold hearts, white carnations and fern leaves and the stairway and electric chandeliers were entwined with asparagus fern.

Miss Minerva McWilliams a sister of the bride played the wedding march and the bride on the arm of her father descended the stairs. She was met in a bower of ferns and palms by the groom, his attendant Mr. Will Voseipka, maid of honor Miss Ethel McWilliams and Rev. McDaid, the latter reading the words of the marrige service which united these two lives.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white satin, made entrain and caught up with pearl ornaments. The bodice was trimmed with shadow lace and pearl beads. Her veil was held in place a wreath of lilies of the valley and held a shower boquet of the same flowers. The maid of honor, Miss Ethel McWilliams, wore a pink chiffon gown over pale blue messaline and carried a large cluster of pink sweet peas and ferns.

The wedding gifts were displayed in one of the rooms and included cut glass silver, china and furniture. The wedding dinner was served on small tables arranged on the lawn and served in courses by Misses Amy Langford, Lucy Dunn, Elizabeth Weinberger, Mayme

McMichael and Orra Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Voseipka left amid a generous shower of rice and old shoes for an extended honeymoon trip to the Pacific coast after which they will reside here. This wedding unites two representatives of highly respected families in the city and they begin their married life under very bright condi-

Powers-Connors Nuptials.

Miss Mayme Ellen Connors, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Connors, who live south of town, was married with nuptial mass at St. Patrick's church Wednesday morning to William H.

Powers. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 by Rev. McDaid in the presence of thirty-five relatives and friends. The bride wore a beautiful dress of white lace draped over white messaline. She wore a large, white hat trimmed with white willow plumes and carried a shower boquet of white roses. Her maid of honor, Miss Agnes Barrett, of Lincoln, was attired in pink chiffon over pink messaline and held pink carnations. She also wore a white picture hat. The groom was attended by his brother Gorden Powers.

After the ceremony the guests were conveyed from the church in automobiles to the home of the groom's parents where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served. The color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the decorations of the table and rooms. The bride is a very attractive and well liked young lady who has been successful in her chosen profession, teaching in rural districts, and has a large circle of friends. The groom is in the employe of the Union Pacific, a steady, moral young man who is fortunate in winning so fair a bride. A reception was held at the home of the bride Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Powers will be at home to their friends at Tenth and Sycamore
